

MSS: Whole-of-Africa Maritime Dialogue

The Northern Architecture

Case Study

Ship identification

Ship's name: LAMAR

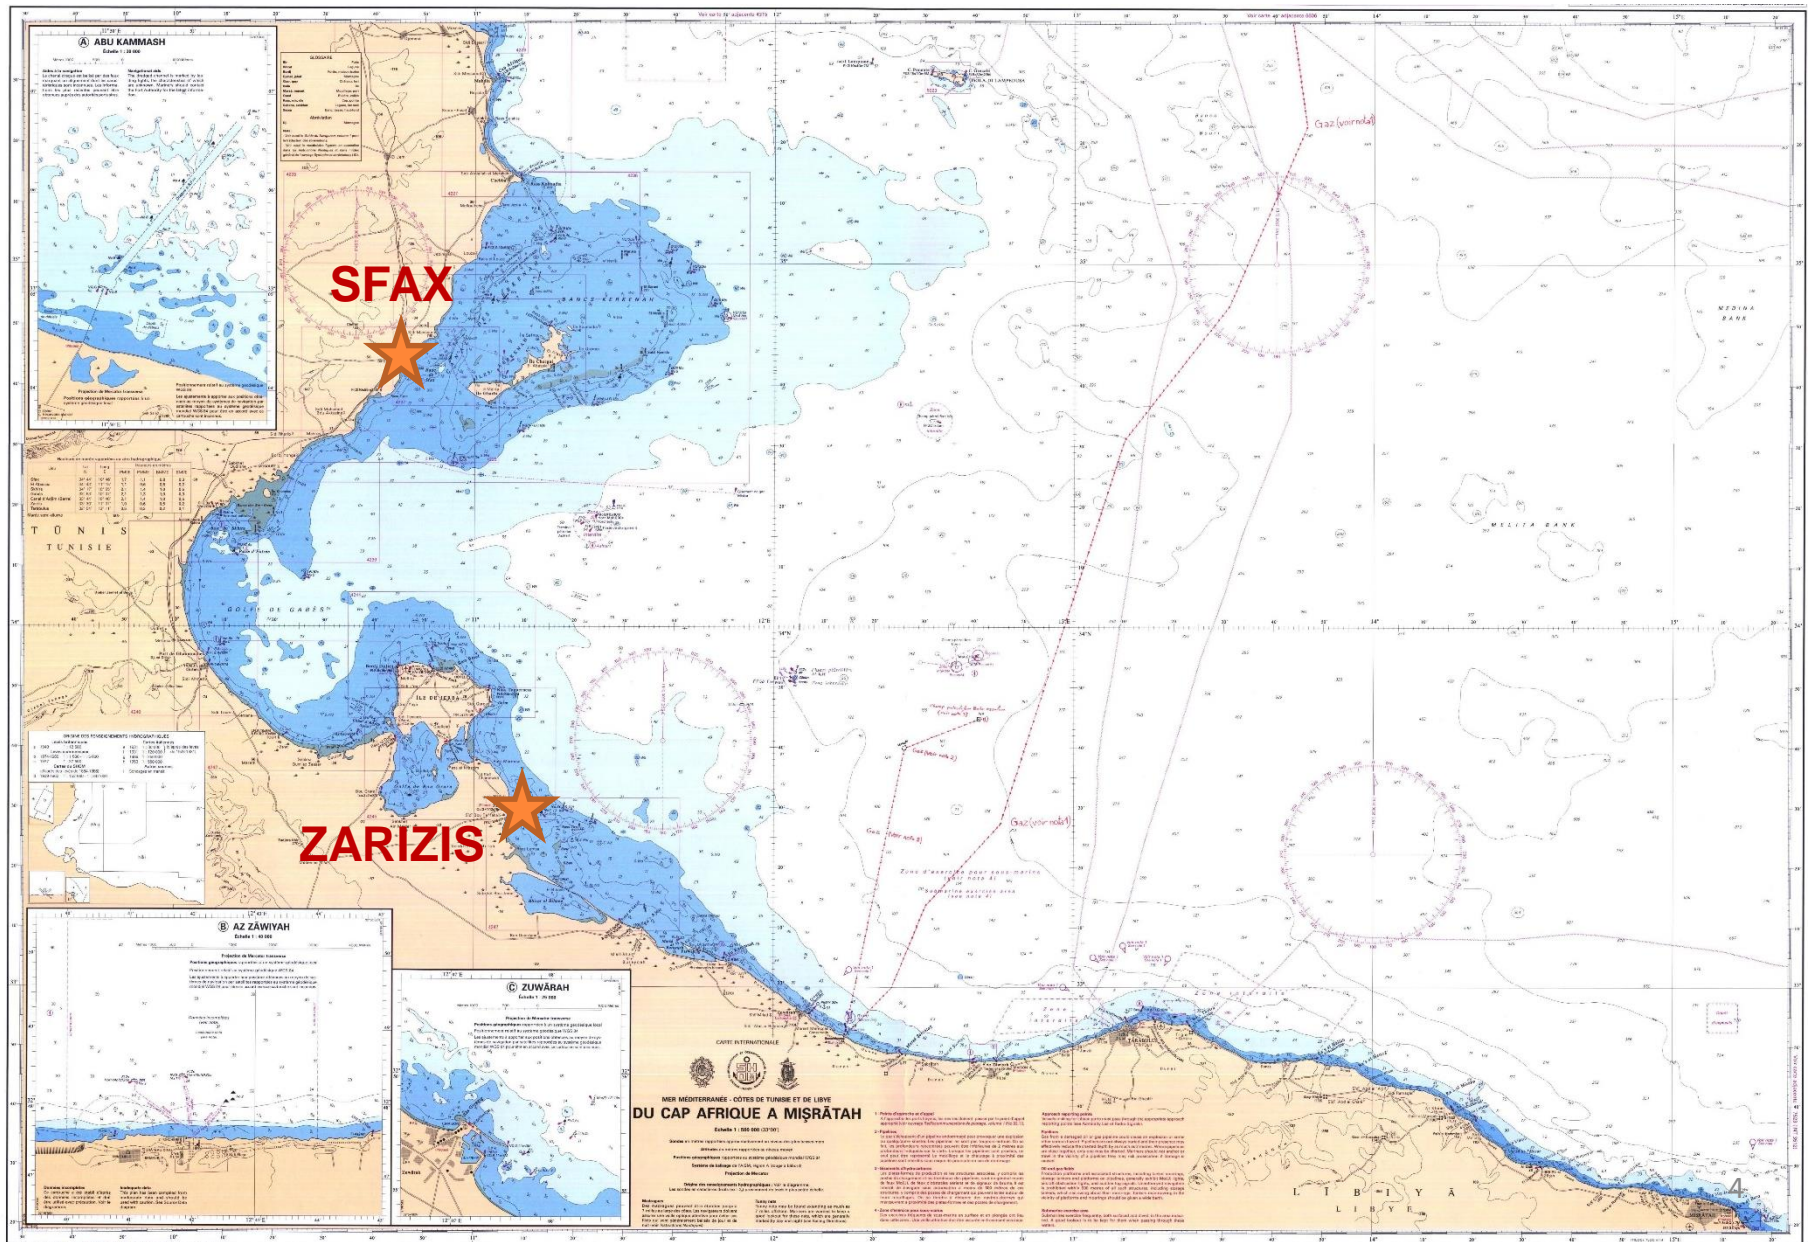

IMO	6620034
MMSI	671006100
Flag	TOGO
Call Sign	5VFN5
Gross tonnage	946
Deadweight	1700
Type of ship	Bunkering Tanker
Year of build	1966 [CANTIERI NAVALI SOLIMANO (Italy)]
Status	In Service/Commission
Overall length	66.99m
Breadth	11m

Ship identification

Ship's name changes

Name of ship	Date of effect	Flag
LAMAR	since 2018	Togo
NEDA	since 2013	Greece
ALPHA II	Since 2011	Greece
HELEN P	Since 1970	Greece

Case analysis

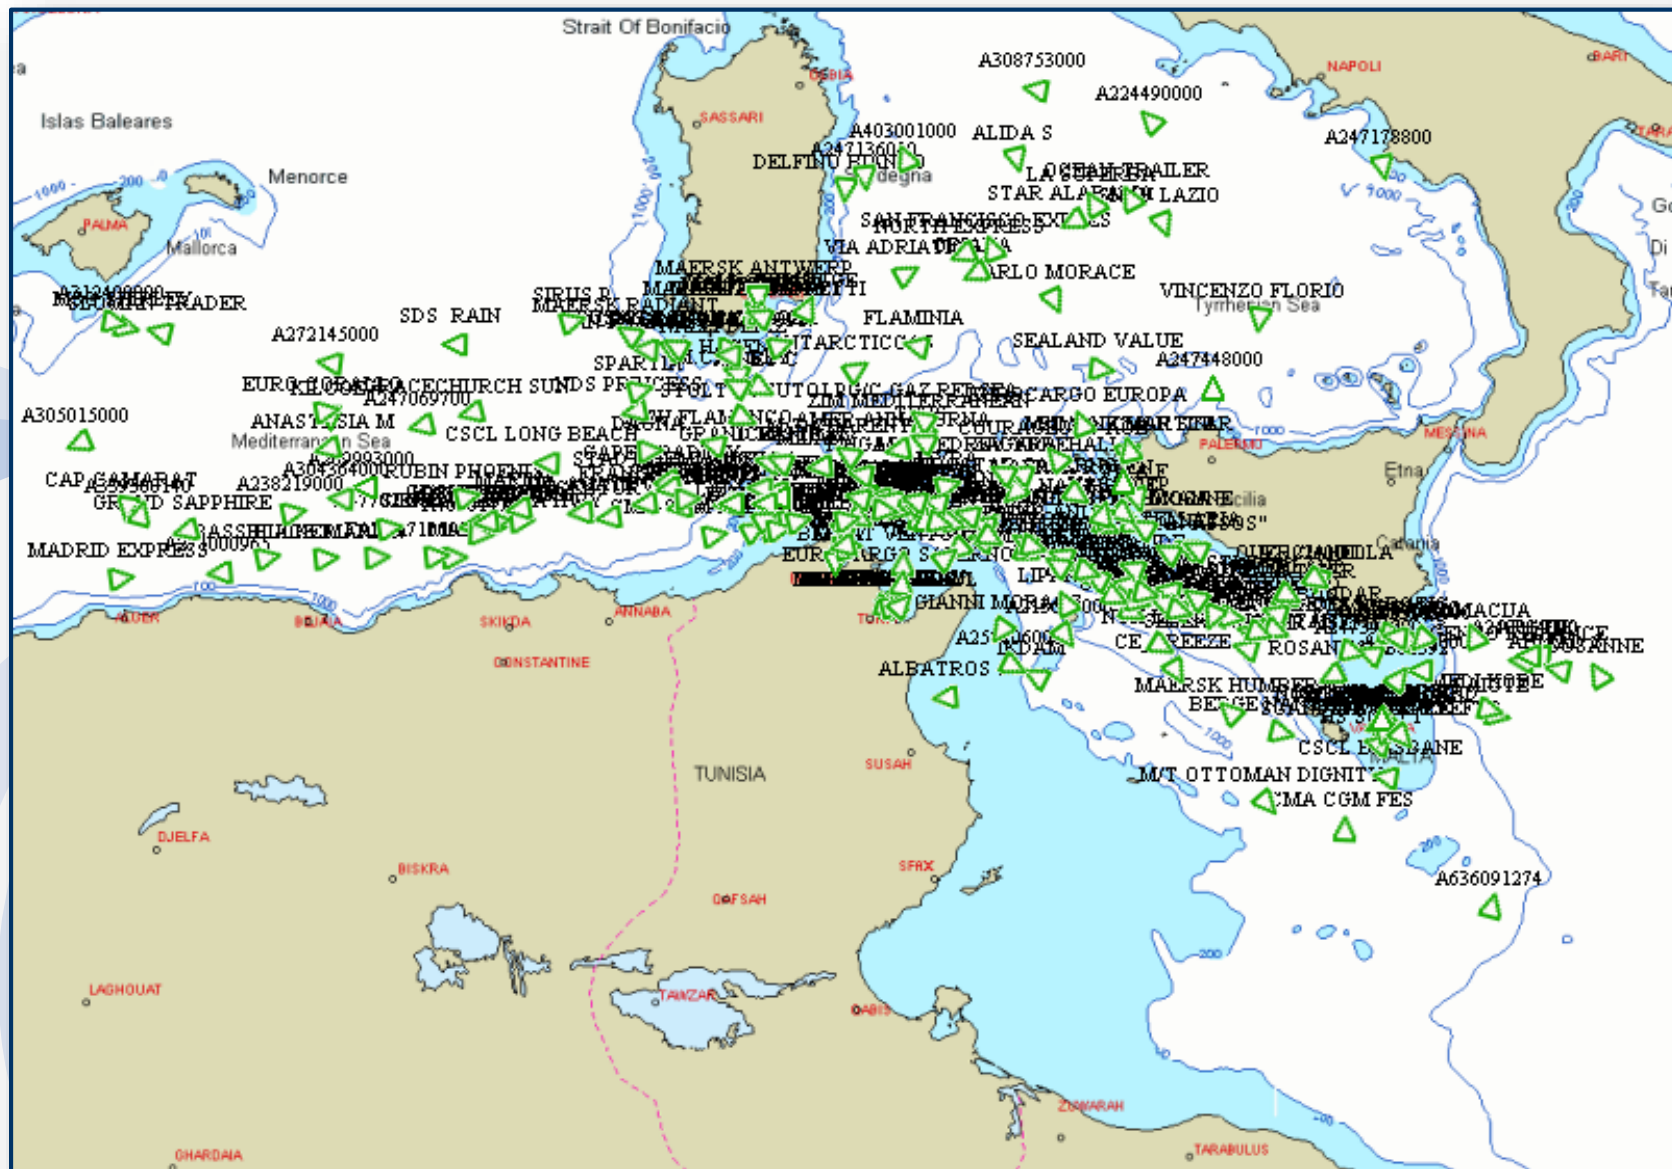

Case analysis

Master's declarations

Looking for a needle in a haystack

Case analysis

Suspicious indicators

March 15, 2018

Libyan Navy seizes oil-smuggling vessel

“The Libyan coastguards said they had seized a fuel-smuggling vessel by the name Lamar and carrying the flag of Togo with 8 Greek crewmembers aboard.

The spokesman of the Libyan Navy, Ayoub Qassim, told reporters Thursday that the vessel was intercepted inside Libyan waters – 8 miles off northern Farwa island.

“The ship has no authority to sail in the Libyan waters.” Qassim explained. He added that the vessel was taken to the Tripoli Naval Base and its case will be lodged at the Attorney General’s Office.

The Head of the Investigations Bureau of the Attorney General’s Office Al-Siddiq Al-Sour disclosed Wednesday that Libyan authorities are cooperating with countries in southern Europe in order to report on foreigners involved in fuel smuggling from Libya.”

Written By: Abdulkader Assad

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION

