The screenshot displays the Africa Center for Strategic Studies website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the center's logo, name, and a 'Subscribe' button. Below this is a search bar and a menu with links to 'About', 'Programs', 'Publications', 'Security Topics', 'Community', 'Experts', and 'Daily Media Review'. The main content area features a map titled 'AFRICA'S ACTIVE MILITANT ISLAMIST GROUPS'. The map shows various militant groups across Africa, with callouts for specific regions: Tunisia (Okba Ibn Nafaa Brigade, Mujahideen Tunisia Kalrouan, Soldiers of the Caliphate), Libya (Ansar al Sharia Libya, Abu Salim Martyrs Brigade, Ajdabiya Revolutionaries Shura Council, Wilayat Fezzan, Wilayat Barga, Majlis Shura Shabab al Islami, Wilayat Tarabulus), Algeria (Al Qaeda in the Islamic Maghreb), Mali (AQIM, Al Mourabitoun), and Egypt (Ansar Beit al Maqdis, Wilayat Sinai). Below the map, there is a section titled 'Map of Africa's Active Militant Islamist Groups' with a brief description. At the bottom, there are two video thumbnails: 'The Situation in South Sudan: A Conversation with Dr. Luka Biong Deng' and 'African Conflict Management in a Time of Change'.

Africa Center for Strategic Studies
June 6 at 12:52pm

Since 2009, the movement Boko Haram in the North-East Nigeria killed about 17 000 people and displaced nearly 2.2 million in its research to establish an Islamic Caliphate. Yet, the interviews with former members of the militias of young suggest that many of them have initially joined the movement for strategic reasons and non-religious. Former members of the demographic data were diverse and often had joined the movement encouraged by friends or colleagues in order to obtain...
